Sales Tax Information for Quilt Sellers

Arkansas Department of Finance and Administration requires sales tax be collected on any sales at the Ozark Quilt Fair.

1. Entrants who are displaying but not selling their quilts will not be affected.
2. Entrants who wish to show AND sell their quilts must follow these state requirements. The museum will give you tax-reporting forms on the day of the fair:
 - a. Entrants who sell quilts MUST collect sales tax on their sales (information the museum obtains from the state will explain what tax amounts to collect) and then turn into the museum at the end of the quilt fair. Sellers must submit to the museum the tax-reporting forms AND the collected sales tax, which the museum will then submit to the state.
 - b. If you are a quilt vendor who already has a sales-tax permit, you're allowed to send in your own taxes rather than report it through the museum. If this is the case, the state asks that you write your sales-tax permit information on the tax-reporting form and submit that form to the museum so we can turn that to the state with other forms.
 - c. Vendors and sellers are allowed to distribute business cards or promotional information with your contact information.
